Expands like this

Brief

This is Gallery Slider, Its drawn in vectors on Adobe Illustrator, The Function should be when you press on the right or left arrows to choose different projects, the Gallery always shows the big picture/the chosen Project, on the 2nd Bar from the right, the bar im talking about is the bar reffered to (Expands like this) on the top with red arrow pointing at it. The Task is that you make a slider like this exactly, and make it functional like i explained.
when you press the white arrows to go left or right the 2nd Bar presents the chosen project, and the rest of the bars pushes each other in a carousel. Do your best.
